2 DEAD IN PRE-YULE TRAGEDY

Boy, 5, Automobile Victim and Woman at Anaheim Commits Suicide

LAD AT PLAY HERE IS FATALLY INJURED

Coroner Conducts Probes Into Death Cases In County

The sinister hands of tragedy and of sorrow lay heavily on two homes in Orange county today, as the rest of the world went on with its plans for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

A little boy, his life snuffed out by an automobile, lay still in death in one home.

In the other, a woman lay dead, a suicide, leaving the hearts of her husband and three sons torn with anguish.

The little boy was John C. James Jr., 1729 Valencia street, who died at 5 p. m. yesterday from injuries sustained two hours earlier when he was run over by an automobile driven by Roy J. Lyon, a neighbor.

The woman was Mrs. R. E. Coffman, 40 years old, of 210 South Illinois street, Anaheim, who died yesterday from the effects of what was thought to have been self-administered poison.

Lad Plays Near Curb The little lad was playing near the curb, it was said. An orange rolled from his hands into the street, and without warning, he dashed after it, into the path of the oncoming automobile. Medical aid was called, but within two hours the boy died.

Funeral services will be held from the Mills and Winbiger Mission funeral chapel next Tuesday at 10 a. m.

Lyon, it was said, had just started his car, and was proceeding slowly when the accident occurred. He was almost frantic as a result of the accident, while his wife, who was riding with him, was on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

Coroner C. D. Brown was prepared to hold an inquest at 4 p. m. today at the funeral parlors.

Woman In Ill Health

Mrs. Coffman had been in ill health for some time, it was learned. When her husband, an Anaheim fumigator, reached the home about 5 p. m. yesterday, he found his wife lying on the bed, dead. Physicians who were called declared death due to poison administered several hours earlier.

Mrs. Coffman had been a resident of Orange county for many years, and possessed scores of friends in the Mother Colony, to whom the news of her tragic end came as a shock. While relatives declare, she had been melancholy for some time, no intimation of her intention to end her life had been given.

She leaves her husband, and three sons in Anaheim. The body was at the undertaking parlors of Backs, Terry and Campbell, Anaheim, where an inquest was to be held at 1 p. m. today. Relatives in the East were notified of the woman's death, and funeral arrangements were being delayed pending word from them.

"30" BULLETIN

The Huntington Central Oil company today brought in Well No. 2, situated on the Heaston lease at Huntington Beach, according to authentic reports received here this afternoon. The well was reported to have started with a flow of 200 barrels and to have increased the output during the day.

East Faces Snowless Christmas as Yule Forecast Given

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Hope for a "white Christmas" is fading, the weather bureau stated today.

Local snows are probable in the Lake region and in portions of the north Atlantic states but the rest of the territory east of the Mississippi will be snowless Monday, unless an unexpected change occurs, the forecaster said.

Snow flurries were forecast for tonight and Sunday in portions of New York, Pennsylvania and New England.

GRIM REAPER BALKS PLANS FOR REUNION

Death Overtakes Man Seven Miles From Old Home Which He Left 20 Years Ago.

BUCKINGHAM, Pa., Dec. 23.—The candle that has burned every Christmas Eve in the window of Frank and "Ma" Hampton's little Buck county farmhouse for the last twenty years to greet the prodigal son will not be lighted Sunday night. Twenty years ago Abasolom Hampton left home to seek his fortune. Each Christmas Eve a candle was set in the window of the little farmhouse to welcome him home, but he never returned.

This year a letter was received by the aged parents from their boy. He was coming home.

Yesterday a neighbor told "Father" Hampton of a strange accident on the road. A stranger had been found paralyzed in the ditch and had died without revealing his identity.

Today "Ma" and "Pa" Hampton identified the dead man as their son for whom they watched and waited for twenty years. Abasolom was within seven miles of his home when death overtook him.

ELABORATE RUM PLANT BARED BY RAIDERS

Discovery of a barn, said to have been completely equipped for the illicit manufacture of liquor, with a watch tower, gas and electricity, light-proof partitions, ventilators and other conveniences, marked the second Wright act raid, conducted at Orange, by the combined forces of the city police there and the district attorney's operatives.

Larry J. Mollica, 456 North Tustin avenue, Orange, was arrested on a John Doe warrant charging possession, manufacture and probable sale of moonshine, while more than 100 gallons of wine were seized by the raiders, it was claimed. Officers were today searching for a still and a quantity of moonshine which, they asserted, was removed from the plant.

City Marshal M. E. Jemison, Orange, and Motorcycle Officers O. K. Carr and Henry Warner, from the district attorney's office, conducted the raid.

The officers began laying lines for the raid shortly after noon yesterday. When they finally swooped down on the establishment, about 5:30 p. m., they were surprised, they said, by the thoroughness of the preparations which Mollica had made against their coming.

A lookout tower, equipped with field glasses, in a cupola of the barn, provided a point of vantage for the defendant, they claimed. In the second story was a plant, which had been equipped, it was declared, for the extensive manufacture of the forbidden fluid. Gas and electricity were provided, while light-proof partitions were provided for further protection.

Six empty barrels, still reeking with the odor of about 400 gallons of mash, which was supposed to have been recently removed, were discovered.

SANTA HOST TO TOTS AT ELKS TREE

2400 Youngsters of City Greet St. Nick at Birch Park

Twenty-four hundred bright, eager, upturned faces! Shrill cries from hundreds of youthful voices!

A Punch and Judy show going full swing.

Santa Claus himself stalking around in broad daylight!

Secretary W. W. Wasser and scores of prominent Elks handing out toys right and left!

Little boys blowing big tin horns!

Tiny girls clutching dainty dolls! Candy, fruits and nuts!

Birch Park jammed to capacity! Every seat filled! Big boys and little boys, fat boys and skinny boys! Chubby girls and thin girls! Babes in arms! Mothers and fathers, and those who are childless! And bachelors themselves!

All these, and others! Such, in a word, was the great Christmas party given here today by the Elks for the good little boys and girls of Santa Ana.

Long before the hour set for the festivities to begin Young America began arriving on the scene. By 1 p. m. hundreds had assembled.

At 2 p. m. every available seat was filled. And still they came.

Santa Claus stood up in the bandstand and began talking to the young people. Someone said Santa Claus bore a striking resemblance to Lee Boyle.

"Have you all been good boys and girls?" Santa Claus demanded.

"Yes, yes, yes, YES, SIR!" came the mighty shout in answer.

"Well, in that case," said Santa, "everyone of you will get a present. As soon as the Punch and Judy show is over you must march down the aisle. As you pass the bandstand, my assistants will hand the presents to you. You see, I am too busy, and too tired, to do all the work myself. I'm so busy and so tired! Worked so hard this Christmas!"

And it was just as Santa had said. Hundreds of little boys and girls stretched forth eager hands. Fine big Elk chaps, including L. C. Mitchell, Fred Fuller, Bill Cole, Fred Chapman, C. W. Decker, C. G. Illingsworth, Bert Campbell, F. J. Adams, Harry Bladen, V. A. Rossiter, F. T. Smith and many others, filled the little hands with gifts.

Santa Claus, perched in the bandstand, kept up a running fire of comment.

He called the children by name, advised them not to shove on another, took a hand himself now and then in distributing gifts, and puffed and steamed and stewed and radiated good cheer.

And a photographer, with a big camera, took a picture of it all, to be hung in the Elks' home here, and staid citizens paused to smile and bless the Elks, and the birds sang more sweetly and the sun seemed to shine more brightly.

It was the eve of Christmas and the world was aflame with love. And the jolly Elks, always in the forefront of the march of progress, were doing themselves proud in bringing happiness to hundreds of deserving young Americans.

FRANCE FREES LAST OF WAR PRISONERS

BERLIN, Dec. 23.—The last four German war prisoners in France were released at Toulon today and will reach German Christmas eve.

JAIL JACK HORNER FOR STEALING PIES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 23.—Jack Horner was today in a corner of the county jail on charges involving a number of Christmas pies. W. E. Bryant, baker, asserts that he left Horner in charge of $70 worth of Christmas pies and that Horner converted them to his own uses, and has sworn to a warrant charging embezzlement.

POPE URGES PEACE. LONDON, Dec. 23.—Pope Pius XI issued an encyclical today, fervently appealing for peace throughout the world, according to a Central News dispatch from Rome.

St. Luke, Chap. 2; Verses 7-18

7. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger because these was no room for them in the inn.

8. And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9. And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were afraid.

10. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13. And suddenly there was with the angel

a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying.

14. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

15. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger.

17. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

Christmas-Holy Day

For millions of people, Christmas is the most sacred holiday (Holy Day) of the year. Probably it is so for seven out of ten of the Register's readers.

Therefore, it is safe to assume that at least a large majority of the readers of The Register would prefer that the paper be not published on Christmas Day.

As for The Register advertisers, according to our best judgment, none of them will be inconvenienced by the suspension of publication of The Register on Christmas day.

Now comes the boys—perhaps we should have placed them first. We have over 100 boys who deliver The Register to its subscribers every night. Perhaps Christmas is not as sacred as it ought to be to all boys, but to all of them it is the one dear holiday of the year—the time when they expect and receive the visits of Dear Old Santa. It goes without saying that these 100 or more boys would be deeply disappointed if they could not have an all-day holiday next Monday.

Then there are about sixty men and women who are employed every day in the production of The Register—employed an average of perhaps nine hours a day—frequently working ten or twelve hours a day. Surely they are entitled to a full day of rest and recreation on Christmas day.

The Register has fifty or more country correspondents and even these will be somewhat relieved of responsibility if The Register is not published on Christmas day.

Therefore, out of consideration for all its family of faithful workers, as well as a matter of good principle on its own part, The Register has decided to efface itself on Christmas day. The paper will not be published.

Bank Accuses Bride's Parent and Brother-in-Law In Affidavit

SAYS DELIVERY OF PROPERTY REFUSED

Fears Burns and Mrs. French Concealing Big Share In Estate

That Emma L. French, mother, and Elmer E. Burns, brother-in-law, have refused to deliver into possession of the Orange County Savings and Trust company property belonging to Mrs. Walter Schofield, nee Ethel French, was revealed today when Judge R. Y. Williams issued a citation requiring Mrs. French and Burns to appear in court at 10 a. m. next Friday and explain their action. The bank was recently appointed by the court as guardian of the estate of Miss French, who several weeks ago, was married to Walter Schofield.

The citation was issued on an affidavit made by William E. Otis, president of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank, through Attorney Clyde Bishop. Otis asserts that "the guardian is advised and believes that Emma L. French and Elmer E. Burns are in possession of a large amount of property belonging to Ethel French."

It is declared in the affidavit that the bank, December 9, made a written demand on Mrs. French to deliver into its possession all of the property of Ethel, but that "she refuses and declines to do so."

Continuing, the affidavit of the bank president declares that the "guardian believes Emma French and Elmer Burns are endeavoring to conceal from the court and the guardian all of the property, estate and effects of Ethel French."

Since appointment by the court of the bank as guardian of the property of Mrs. Schofield, reports have had her estate valued at $200,000 to $300,000.

MASSACRE TRIAL RECESS. MARION, Ill., Dec. 23.—After a brief session today, jurors in the Herrin massacre trial were turned over to custody of bailiffs for the Christmas holidays and a recess of court taken until January 2.

LABORER HIT TO $30,000. AURORA, Ill., Dec. 23.—Karl Lindquist, laborer, threw away his shovel and engaged the "bridal suite" in a local hotel so he could "rest." Lindquist was notified he was heir to a $30,000 estate.

FREEES POLITICAL PRISONER. WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—President Harding today granted a last-minute pardon to one political prisoner, John Pancer of Detroit.

BANDITS OVERLOOK $400. LOS ANGELES, Dec. 23.—Three bandits were in a hurry when they "stuck up" R. L. Rhoades, grocer of Watts. One of the bandits pointed a gun at Rhoades while the others smashed the cash drawer and took $50. They did not search Rhoades, who had $400 on his hip.

SILENT ON APPOINTMENT. SACRAMENTO, Dec. 23.—Friend W. Richardson, governor-elect, today refused to deny or affirm the report that R. M. Morton, highway engineer of San Diego county, would be named to succeed A. B. Fletcher, state engineer.

FALLS FIVE STORIES. OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 23.—Mrs. Sarah Gribsey, domestic, early today fell five stories from the Hotel Clayton, crashed through the skylight of an adjoining store and suffered only minor injuries.

IRISH FEAR BLOODY YULETIDE STRUGGLE

DUBLIN, Dec. 23.—Persons on railroad property without authorization were ordered shot on sight today by the Free State government as the result of fresh outbreaks of incendiarism and bombing by republican insurgents.

A bloody Christmas was feared as the rebels ignored an ultimatum that four of their number now in prison and condemned to death would be executed if outrages continued. Free State troops continued to storm republican strongholds, casualties resulting.

Eight civilians including a mother and daughter were wounded when insurgents in a motor lorry raced through Cork, bombing the streets. One man was killed and two women and a Free State private were wounded when government troops attacked armed rebels in a Dorset street stronghold.

YEGGMEN GET $1000. SACRAMENTO, Dec. 23.—Safe-crackers got $1000 when they broke the safe of a local downtown market. Police have no clues.

PEOPLE ARE WARNED AGAINST CANAL WATER

Dr. W. L. Mitchell, county health officer, today made public a communication received from R. F. Gowdy, southern division engineer of the California state board of health, warning against drinking water from the canals or drainage ditches in this section. Recent rains washed out the outfall sewers of Colton and Riverside, according to the engineer's statement, and contaminated all water diverted by Fullerton and Santa Ana canals. This condition will probably obtain for several weeks. Meanwhile, plans are being made for permanent outfalls at the two foothill cities, to be completed some time in May.

100 gallons of wine, authorities declared. A small quantity of moonshine whiskey was also located.

Special Investigator O. K. Carr today expressed the belief that Molica did most of his manufacturing at night, and that by a special process of ventilation and fumigation, he prevented the odors from escaping, where they might be detected by neighbors.

Molica will be prosecuted in Recorder Igle's court at Orange for a violation of the city ordinance, it was declared, after which District Attorney A. P. Nelson will prefer charges based on the Wright act, he declared today.

Carr and Nelson were today endeavoring to locate the still, which, they believe, was removed shortly before their arrival. Should they be successful, basis would be furnished for an additional charge against the man.

HOSPITAL GOAL OF $100,000 NEARING

Local physicians engaged in a drive to raise funds for the establishment of a new hospital in Santa Ana today were anticipating reaching the present goal of $100,000 by the end of the year, following disclosures at the weekly luncheon of the three teams concerned that the subscriptions now total $70,000. Yesterday's meeting was held at the Cat 'N Fiddle on West Fourth street.

The sum of $8900 resulted from the week's campaign, reports disclosed. The Blue team was credited with $4700, the Green with $3200 and Red $1000. The teams are composed of physicians who solicit as they find time for such work.

A. B. Wastell, who is directing the campaign, announced today that of the total subscription, $1,800 represents outright donations from philanthropic friends of the hospital. The donations were for the equipping of four patients' rooms. The pledges were made by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Blee, Judge and Mrs. R. Y. Williams, Mr. and Charles F. Smith and Mrs. M. E. Copeland.

The director said that the doctors were confident that as the campaign proceeded other contributions would be made that will provide furniture and equipment for all the private rooms and the small wards. He anticipated such subscriptions by public-spirited organizations, clubs, firms and individuals who desire to help in this way and who recognize the humanitarian purpose of the institution.

RUSH OF YULE MAIL HERE IS CONTINUING

All mail—282 sacks of it—that came to the Santa Ana postoffice yesterday was delivered before nightfall, L. F. Harvey, superintendent of mails, said today.

"We will do the same thing today," he said. "There are about 225 sacks of mail here. It will be delivered today."

Clerks will work on the mail tomorrow, but the postoffice will be closed and no deliveries will be made, it was announced. One delivery will be made Monday, and the post office window will be open between 10 a. m. and 12 noon, according to the announcement.

Carriers were on the job this morning at 5 a. m. routing their mail. J. S. Roberts, No. 5 carrier, who has an average route of 1000 letters, said he delivered 199 letters to two houses yesterday, and never before had handled such an enormous letter mail as he had today. All carriers were agreed that this has been an exceptionally heavy year for Christmas mail.

Must Learn Addresses. Due to lack of street addresses or incorrect address, 125 packages and 700 letters today were held for investigation of their rightful destination.

"These packages and letters have to be looked up in the directory," Harvey explained. "Santa Ana no longer is a community where the postmaster and his clerks know just where everyone lives."

Declaring that the number of parcels shipped out of Santa Ana by express for Christmas far exceeds all past records, with today's business the largest of the season, J. T. Carter, local agent for the American Express company, said that the number of shipped-in packages also exceeded the number during former Christmas seasons.

He announced that because of the big shipments arriving today and the past two or three days, and in order to avoid possible disappointment of those who are anticipating receipt of presents, he would, tomorrow and Monday, keep the office open until noon. Packages for shipment will not be received, however.

This, he declared, is something he never has done before in his twenty-nine years' service with the company, Sundays and Christmas always being strictly observed.

The delivery wagons will be in service all day tomorrow and all forenoon Monday. He says that he has a large number of parcels which contain only the general address, "Santa Ana." He is not acquainted with the addresses of many of the persons to whom the packages are consigned.

BOY WINS BICYCLE IN 'REASONS' TEST

Willard H. Middlebrook, 1014 West Third street, today became one of the happiest boys in Santa Ana when he was informed that he was the winner of the nickel-plated Pierce-Arrow bicycle offered by Henry Beisser, local bicycle dealer, to the boy or girl presenting in fifty words the best five reasons for riding a bicycle.

The lad will receive his prize from Beisser Monday at 10 a. m., at 427 West Fourth street.

Seventy-nine boys and girls entered the contest. Of the numerous good reasons given, many were found to be in excess of the fifty-words limit.

The judges were C. L. Pritchard of the First National bank; N. A. Berry, of The News, and Horace Fine, of The Register. While second and third prizes were not provided, the judges awarded honorable mention to Ruth Ellen Hoffman, 11 years old, 1057 West Second street, and to Lucile Ruth Normann, 410 West Second street.

Grace Middlebrook, a sister of the winner, was given special mention for cleverness. Her five reasons were cleverly put together.

The winner's contribution follows:

"My five reasons for riding a bicycle: I love to ride a bicycle. I earn money with its help. It is splendid exercise. It teaches self-reliance, takes me to distant places, which teaches geography and botany, thus combining pleasure, money, health, character and study."

Middlebrook was badly injured a few months ago in an elevator accident at the W. H. Spurgeon building. He has completely recovered, it is said.

MECHANIC INJURED

ANAHEIM, Dec. 23.—C. J. Cornellison, mechanic in a Huntington Beach garage, was today recovering from slight injuries received when he fell in the garage pit. He was brought to the local hospital shortly after the accident where it was found that his injuries were not serious.

ORDER ARRESTS IN LOUISIANA MOB KILLING

(United Press Leased Wire)

MER ROUGE, La., Dec. 23.—Wholesale round-up of terrorists in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana was promised today by state and federal officials probing the murder of two men by a masked mob.

Many men, prominent in this section will be included in the list of twenty or more persons charged with complicity in the kidnapping and killing of Watt Daniels and Thomas Richards last August.

The first arrest in connection with the killings was ordered by officials today when deputies were sent to Speaker with a warrant charging one man with murder. Arrests were expected to follow in rapid order.

The order for the arrest was issued by Attorney General Cocco, who came here from New Orleans last night.

Pathologists have decided that the two victims were severely beaten before being thrown into the lake, according to information here.

Licenses of automobiles of the hooded band were issued in Arkansas and Mississippi and have furnished information on which officials prepared to arrest mob members today.

The central figure in the roundup will be "Lisping Bill" whose identity has been revealed by W. C. Andrews and "Tot" Davenport who were beaten by the night riders shortly before the alleged killing of Daniels and Richards. He was identified by his speech. J. L. Daniels, another victim of the kidnappers, today identified the decomposed body of his son, Watt, dragged from La Faurche lake yesterday, still bound with wires.

Events, moving swiftly in the last few days, have converted this little community into a virtual armed camp. Men go about with revolvers dangling at their sides and shotguns and rifles protrude as automobiles and buggies move along country roads.

CAR SANDWICHED IN COLLISION WRECKED

A light delivery car, owned by C. C. Minepky, Long Beach, was demolished when it was sandwiched between a large touring car and a truck on the Los Alamitos road, according to a report on file today at Sheriff C. E. Jackson's office. No one was hurt.

Automobiles driven by J. F. Klein, Anaheim, and J. H. Sargent, La Habra, collided at the intersection of Central avenue and the Fullerton road. Both cars were slightly damaged, the report indicated, but none of the occupants was injured.

Better be sure, though, to get a good running start on the level. For the Jewett, with its fifty-horsepower, six-cylinder motor, makes hill climbing a joke. There you have the great advantage of reserve power and spirited flexibility. Remember, when you want action, nothing can take the place of piston displacement.

MYSTERY VEILS VANISHING OF ATKINSON

Incidents developing today in connection with the disappearance
Thursday of Robert Atkinson, well known automobile man, concerned mostly the disclosing of asserted unpaid accounts that he left here.

No one, it was said, had been found who saw Atkinson leave town.
The method he employed in getting his trunk out of the city and the point to which it was sent was just as deep a mystery today as it was yesterday, when it became known that he had departed, leaving Mrs. Atkinson without funds and a large number of friends as creditors.

Those who were familiar with the money Atkinson had been making since coming to Santa Ana two years ago and with his personal habits, were of the opinion that the missing man left here with ample funds. It was believed he has been preparing for several months for his departure.
Mrs. Atkinson, who was in Los Angeles county today, was understood to be investigating the status of the furniture in her home here, which was purchased on contract, and on which, it was said, Atkinson had paid but little.
Mrs. Atkinson will have little difficulty in disposing of her equity in the furniture, it was said.

Before coming to Santa Ana to join Atkinson, Mrs. Atkinson was employed in the Wells Fargo bank at San Francisco. She may return to her position there, it was reported. Her mother died here two or three months ago.

The Churches' Christmas Message

THE CHURCHES of Santa Ana extend Christmas greetings. May Christmas bring Joy and Peace and Good Will to the heart of every man and woman and boy and girl in Santa Ana. The Churches of Santa Ana extend a Christmas invitation. Christmas is a religious festival. How better can you celebrate it than by attending the service of a Christian Church? Come to Church tomorrow. In every Church you will hear music that will cheer you; a message that will inspire you; and you will find a welcome that will make you glad.

The Churches of Santa Ana remind you of the meaning of Christmas. The birth of Christ is remembered because of the greatness of His life. Peace and Goodwill will rule the world when the Spirit of the Christ shall rule the hearts of men. It is a good thing to remember the birth of the Christ Child. It is a better thing to experience the birth of the Christ Spirit within one's own heart.

Silver Wedding Is Celebrated By Surprise Gathering
When Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hoy lamenting recently that Christmas exercises at the United Presbyterian church would prevent them from celebrating their silver wedding anniversary, they reckoned—if not without their host, at least without the ingenuity of the "Mc-Fadden clan".
For the latter, with its well-known faculty for making opportunities, arranged a surprise to follow the church program and staged it perfectly with the result that Mr. and Mrs. Hoy were guests of honor last night at their own wedding anniversary and in their own home.
It was a happy evening of games, social conversation and music together with reminiscences of that wedding day on December 22, 1907,
when Miss Elizabeth McFadden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Mc-Fadden, became the bride of W. W.
Hoy.
In honor of the occasion's anniversary the guests presented the bride and groom of that wedding day twenty-five years ago, with two handsome pieces of silver, Arthur McFadden making the presentation on behalf of the assembled
"kin-folk".
Those greeting the honorees were Mrs. Hoy's mother, Mrs. A.
P. McFadden, Mrs. John McFadden,
Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McFadden, Mr.
and Mrs. Arthur McFadden, Mr.
and Mrs. J. T. Raitt, Miss Jeanette McFadden, Miss Adah Mc-Fadden, Miss Elsie Raitt and Miss Mabel McFadden.
A further celebration of the day will be observed by the members of the immediate family of Mr. and Mrs. Hoy when they all gather for Christmas in the home. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Finster of Babylon will be here to spend the holiday while the other members of the family to be seated at the Christmas board in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Hoy will be Mrs. A. P. McFadden, Miss Jean McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Olmstead, the Misses Betty, Wilma and Jean Hoy and John Hoy.

Attend Party

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Rhodes returned yesterday from Los Angeles where they attended a delightful little farewell party stag-ged by their friend Ted Shawn of the famous Denishawn Dancers, ere his departure to rejoin his wife, Miss Ruth St. Denis and their company in Denver.
Mr. Shawn made a flying visit at the Rhodes home on East Chestnut street earlier in the week, returning to Los Angeles Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes hosted their party late that night following their participation in the Rotary gayeties at St. Ann's Inn.

The Goff Gift and Art Shop takes this opportunity of wishing all its friends a Merry Christmas.
Again the season is at hand when men and women are impelled to pause for a little while in their chase after material things, in order that they may feel and express their fundamental kinship with one another.
The kindly spirit of Christmas has the power to wipe away much of the sophistication and complexity of twentieth-century civilization, and reveal people and things as they really are. Sometimes the revelation is depressing, but not often;
the Scrooges whose Christmas carol is a growl are refreshingly rare.
Christmas is a festival for the optimist, whatever may be the color of their skins, or whatever may be the language they speak or the laws they obey.
When Christmas breaks down the man-made walls that tend to keep men apart the rest of the year, the Christmas gift becomes the tangible expression of the reawakened love warming hearts everywhere.
To the gift shop dealer falls the task of aiding people to say "Merry Christmas" to one another, and the effective performance of this task is one of the reasons why each year finds the gift shop more firmly entrenched among the indispensable accessories of life.
But the mission of the gift shop in purveying gifts is an all-the-year-around mission that is helping to spread the Christmas spirit over every day of every month.
The gift shop dealer is a modest sort of person, making no claims to the influence that sways men and events, but it is the gift shop dealer who is giving a new significance to the age-old words:

BALLAD OF YR CHRISTMAS
SHOPPER
I'm all mixed up in my Christmas gifts.
My fingers tremble, my hair grows
gray;
Nothing I've purchased that seems to fit—
Where are the children of yesterday?
All of my presents seem out of place,
I haven't been playing in luck at all;
Ruth (who is twelve) wants a vanity case
And here I got her a talking doll!
Bob, I would please with roller skates
Sure in my soul 'twas the one best bet;
What he desires is a pair of phones
To further equip his radio set!
For Molly (sixteen) some wholesome books
With a happy heroine not much older Than Molly herself who it now seems, looks
For ear-rings to dangle clear to her shoulder!
For smiling Junior, a teddy bear Seemed so exactly the gift for the lad;
I was wrong despite my tender care—
He craves an auto just like his dad!
Thus through my list have I blun-dered on,
Pleasure gone and my courage
daunted;
Buying the presents I thought they'd want.
Only to find them all unwanted!
Another Christmas will see a change,
Never again will you hear me
groan;
Nor need it be in a manner
strange—
I'll give them the cash—they can buy their own!

BUT—
Where are the children who once loved sleds,
Tops and dollies in bright array?
Childish shoulders now bear old heads—
Where are the children of yesterday?
CAREFULLY STITCHED in with the patches in this week's Christmas Quilt, are warm little wishes for happiness to all those who read and who may be counted friends. For we realize that often only a friend would stop to glance at the Quilt, dearly as we love the stitching thereof. May theirs be an abundance of joy on this the Birthday of the King. May the joy so well up in their hearts that it will overflow and reach all of their friends. For the true Spirit of Christmas is "loving and giving." Was it not Lowell who said

"— the same to you!"

Yuletide Party Greet Members of Sunday School Class
Honoring the members of her Sunday school class with their teacher, Mrs. Wooten and a few other friends, Mrs. George Graves was one of the recent hospitable hostesses of the holiday season at her home on East First street.
Arriving guests found a beautifully decorated Christmas tree to greet them and were each given a number which corresponded to a numbered package on the tree.
Christmas games were enjoyed as were several delightful readings
by Mrs. F. T. Porter.
Following the serving of refreshments, the guests were asked to present their numbers and receive the pretty gifts which Santa Claus had been thoughtful enough to leave.
Members of the class present were Mesdames L. Cole, Merle Torris, Matilda Williams, Cammie
Haynes, O. Crane, the Misses Blanch Cartnell, Lois Taylor, Nina Falkner, Mrs. Wooten the teacher and Mrs. Graves, the hostess while guests included the Rev.

Double Gift Shower Honors Bride and Bride-to-be
A delightful party in keeping with the season and filled with the Christmas spirit was a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Julietta Hagthorn on Lime street,
Thursday evening of this week.
The house was decked in Christmas bells and huge bouquets of poinsettias.
The happy honorees were Mrs.
J. S. Round, who prior to her marriage, December 11, was Miss Mabel Stumff, and Miss Sue Stratton, who will soon become the bride of Herbert Parsons.
The evening was spent in games
and music, and when the merriment was at its height, "special delivery" packages arrived for the honorees. These, when opened, were found to contain many beautiful and useful articles for the homes.
Late in the evening the hostess,
assisted by Miss Pauline Porter, served light refreshments to about twenty-five girls.

THREE BIG EVENTS HERE TO FEATURE YULE CELEBRATION

Forming an unwitting trinity, Santa Ana will hold the theme of the season throughout its course in hymn and prayer. On Christmas morning men of Santa Ana will direct their steps to the Temple Theater to take part in the Christmas benefit entertainment of the Men's Community Bible class. No admission will be charged but a collection will be taken for the class benefit fund for the sick or destitute.

Plan Attractive Program
Among the many programs planned by churches here for tomorrow night, the one arranged at Zion's Evangelical church is expected to prove exceptionally attractive. An orchestra selection will open the program. The song, "Joy to the World," by the congregation will follow, as will a prayer; and a scriptural reading. Part 1 will consist of recitations and songs by the primary department in Part 2. "The Story of the Promise and Annunciation" will be told by Sylvetta Fricker, and there will be an organ selection and songs. Part 3 will be "The Nativity," Part 4, "The Holy Night," Part 5, "Mother and Child," Part 6, "The Flight into Egypt," and Part 7, "The Youth and Manhood of Christ." Copies of appropriate pictures by famous painters will be displayed during the rendition of each part, and instrumental and vocal selections will be featured.

Plan Special Services

Special services will be given at the churches tomorrow night, with carol singing and a general spirit of gratefulness pervading all churches, all creeds. Soloists, organists, musicians of note, pianists and augmented choirs will give special programs of Christmas music during the services. Some of the churches will have special programs at the morning service as well as at the night service.

questions. "Say, Mister, who are you?" he demanded, as, with eyes agleam and little hands twitching, he stalked up to Santa Claus and began tugging at his great red coat. "Tell me who you are!"

"Me?" boomed the man with the big, shaky voice. "Who am I? Why, I'm Santa Claus, of course! Don't you know me?"

The light of complete understanding spread over Pete's winsome face.

"Yes, I know you!" he piped shrilly. "You're the same man! The same man! You—you! Say, Mister, where's my shirt?"

Poor old Santa Claus! This pretty nearly floored him. He said:

"Uh! Ah! Um! Uh-hum!"

"You forgot it!" Pete flung out. "No, I didn't!" denied Santa, fumbling in his pack.

"You did, too!" Pete insisted.

SANTA IS MAN OF HIS WORD, PETE FINDS

BY TOM LEWIS.

Well, sir, by golly, Santa Claus is a man of his word, and Little Pete, out at the Orange County Juvenile home, is never, never, never, no, NEVER! going to doubt him any more. Pete says so himself.

Now, Little Pete has bright, seeing, and inquisitive eyes—and a mighty glib tongue. He isn't much taller than a sawed-off yardstick, but he's as lively as a cricket.

And Pete isn't a bit backward about coming forward, as Santa Claus learned a year ago, when he paid his annual visit to the juvenile home. Pete wanted a shirt—a gaudy affair of many colors. Santa didn't have any in stock. Therefore, Pete was disappointed.

"But," said Kriss Kringle to Pete, "I'll be back next year, and I may bring you one then. Will that be all right?"

Pete said he "guessed" it would, but he'd like awfully well to have it then and there. Whereupon Santa promised and went his way.

Santa Ramps In.
So, last night, when Santa rumped in, ruddy-cheeked and with bells a-jingling, Little Pete, running true to form, pounced upon him and began plying him with

Whereupon, Santa got mighty busy distributing gifts to the twenty-one other children who are wards of the big institution out on Grand avenue.

And while Santa worked, Pete watched; and while Pete watched, Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, Mrs. Nora Allen, Col. S. H. Finley, Howard Wassum, Earl Abbey and a group of great-hearted county employees who had come to the home after finishing the day's toil, that they might bring a bit of cheer into these darkened lives—these stood by with glistening eyes and talked in subdued tones.

What a picture it was! Twenty-three bright-eyed children, boys and girls, ranging in age from Pete, the cherub, to Grace, and Jennie, and Juanita, attractive girls who will soon be full-grown young women.

en. Delinquents and dependents, we call them, but children of God, everyone of them, and deserving the best we can give them.

This was the thought that animated the faithful little band of county employees who journeyed to the juvenile home at sunset, carrying the baggage of Love, secure in the consciousness that they would find their own happiness in ministering to the needs of another.

"Into Christ's Great Heart," Christmas! Christmas in the juvenile home! The bells are ringing, the voices are singing, the air is vibrant with good cheer. The quiet stenographer, the humble clerk, the county official of high degree, the office boy and the office girl! All these were there that Pete, and Grace, and Ida, and Billy, and Anna, and Esther, and Christine, and Jennie, and Juanita, and all the rest of the wards of the county might catch the spirit of the occasion, and look with eyes of understanding into the great heart of Christ.

Gifts for the children, music for the children, song, laughter and gaiety for the children, good cheer for those who are less fortunate than we! This was the thing that took these men and women out there to the big stark house on Grand avenue.

Service! What a tremendous word! How superior to vanity! Service! Those who serve may enter!

And so, Little Pete and all his boy and girl friends were made supremely happy; for there was a big Christmas tree, there were many beautiful and useful presents, and there were the whispered words of hope and encouragement, which mean more than all the gifts in the world.

"Where's My Shirt?" Little Helen Slabaugh sang, "The Little Pink Rose," Little Elizabeth Wassum sang, "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," Miss Virginia Slabaugh played the violin, Lester Schroeder played the saxophone, Lizetta Phillips played the xylophone, Glenda May Wagner played the piano, and love played a haunting melody upon the harpstrings of the mind.

And when it was all over, Little Pete, dashing after Santa Claus, demanded:

"Where's my shirt?"

"Look in that box!" someone cried.

And Pete did. And, lo and behold, there was the most wonderful shirt that Pete's beautiful brown eyes had ever seen. And now Pete knows that Santa Claus is a man of his word. But he still has a well-defined hunch that R. R. Miller and Santa Claus are pretty closely related.

JERNIGAN DELAYS NAMING HIS AIDES

Sam Jernigan, sheriff-elect, today had not completed the selection of men whom he plans to appoint as deputies and was not in position therefore to announce the names of those who will compose his staff when he assumes the office of sheriff January 8.

Jernigan said he had three more selections to make before completing his list. He said that it was proving difficult to decide on the men he should name to these positions, for all of the applicants are good material.

He said he hoped to be in position to make definite announcement of his deputies by next Tuesday.

of the Orange County Trades association Thursday night at the garage of Harry D. Riley, Anaheim, presented the estimated figures
there.

His declaration aroused keen interest among the association members, many of whom admitted that they never had given consideration to the approximate value of investments in the industry in this county.

The Long Beach secretary brought out the valuation as a point in discussing the California Automobile Trades association and the service it is rendering to the public and tradesmen.

"The California Automobile Trades association guarantees to the public the integrity of each member, which means fair and square dealing with the public,"
said the visiting secretary.

Long Beach association; L. C. Coon and G. B. Martin, members, accompanied Morris to the meeting.

COMES HERE TO SEE CITY AND BUYS GARAGE

Seattle Man Also Becomes Agent for Cleveland and Chandler

Coming to Santa Ana Friday of last week to look the city over, L. E. Carpenter today was an active business man of Santa Ana,
with an automobile agency and a garage as his line of endeavor.

He has taken the agency for the Chandler and Cleveland automobiles, succeeding the W. B. Mason Motor company, and has purchased the business and lease of the Central Garage, 429 West Third street.
B. W. McClure has been the owner of the Central garage for many years.

Plans to Specialize Carpenter announced that he would continue to do general automobile repair work at the shop
but would specialize on Chandler and Cleveland service. He expects soon to have with him an expert on these two lines.

For the past ten years Carpenter has been in Seattle as manager of agencies in the northwest for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company. Retiring recently from that position for the purpose of coming to Southern California to locate, he found the agency in Santa Ana available.

"I came to Santa Ana last Friday to look the city over prior to taking the agency," said Carpenter.

Decides On Santa Ana
"It didn't require any time to convince me that Santa Ana is one of the best business cities to be found anywhere," he continued. "I decided at once to settle here—and here I am, to make my home, build up a business and give high class service to Cleveland and Chandler owners as well as to the owners of other makes of cars."

The new business man evidenced his faith in the city by at once making an investment in the garage, purchased largely with a view to taking care of the cars for which he acquired the agency.

Gus Wieckhorst, who was shop foreman for McClure, will continue in that position with Carpenter.

BUILD BATTERY STATION HERE FOR AGENT

M. S. Robinson, of the Prest-
O-Lite agency, 116 East Fourth street, today was anticipating completion by January 1, of a new station at 113 Spurgeon street, which Justus Birtcher is now erecting for him.

Robinson declared that his business had expanded so rapidly and to such proportions that more room was required to give persons the service it is his ambition to give them.

In the new location there will be plenty of room, with a court arrangement that will afford drivers easy access to the battery station. The open court will be in front with the service station building located at the rear.

GOOD EVENING! HAVE YOUR DUST PAN
AND BRUSH IN CAR?

Glassless and trackless highways, is the slogan of A. F. Morris, secretary of the Automobile Trades association of Long Beach, who was here this week on a visit to Herbert O. Davis, secretary of the Orange County Automobile Trades association.

Morris suggests that cars of all character be equipped with a brush and dust pan and that drivers stop long enough to sweep up broken pieces of glass and other puncture producers wherever they are seen.

Morris hopes to see his suggestion taken up by all owners of motor vehicles and the practice extended until it includes enough drivers to insure pavements free from broken bottles, nails, tacks and other articles that cause tire damage.

He points out that the time involved in halting a machine to sweep up glass or any article is insignificant, and that the driver who stops long enough to remove some tire menace from the highway is protecting both himself and all other drivers.

DODGE POWER PLANT IN GRAHAM TRUCK LAUDED FOR ITS SERVICE

One-and-a-half-ton Graham Brothers truck, with Dodge Brothers power plant, delivered by O. A. Haley, distributor for Dodge Brothers cars, recently to Gardner and Hotz, Third and Spurgeon streets, distributors of Blue Streak gasoline and Sinclair Motor oils.

FAVOR GAS TAX THOUGH WITH RESERVATION

According to Herbert O. Davis, secretary of the Orange County Automobile Trades association, announcement that the California Automobile Trades association will fight any attempt to saddle a gasoline tax on the users of this fuel, has brought many favorable comments from motorists.

The motorists, generally speaking, Davis said, do not object particularly to the imposition of a tax, except on the ground that the money raised by such a tax might be diverted to purposes other than that for which it might be collected.

Recommendation of the governors of Western states, that a levy of two cents a gallon be made through enactment by the state legislature, is considered somewhat extravagant, Davis recalled. A more recent recommendation calling for a 1 cent a gallon tax, would not be so bad, in the opinion of the secretary.

"There will be no opposition to a tax on gasoline in California if the motorists of the state are assured that the money so raised will be used for road improvements and nothing else," said Davis. "Automobile associations and civic organizations will be boosting for such a tax if they can be assured that the roads will get the funds and that the money will not go into the general fund of the state."

ORANGE COUNTY TRADES BODY TO EXPAND?

Officials of the Orange County Automobile Trades association today were giving consideration to extending the territory of operations of the association to include Whittier, Norwalk and Downey, in Los Angeles county, following reports at a meeting of the association at Anaheim that tradesmen in these places desired to affiliate with the organization in this county.

It was said that tradesmen in the towns concerned had declared that they would rather become identified with the organization in this county than with the association in Los Angeles county. Arrangements will be made for holding a meeting at Whittier in the near future to meet the dealers and garage men of that city with a view to ascertaining their desires.

HANFORD O. K.'S PLAN

Present System Is Called

The legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce here had under consideration today a resolution recommending to the state legislature a change in the motor vehicle act eliminating the present method of handling car registrations and substituting a method by which clerks or other county offices would issue licenses and make collections.

The Hanford board of trade has initiated a movement along this line and a resolution similar to that passed by that board is being given consideration here.

As the point involved is one more or less of a legal nature, the subject has been referred to the legislative committee for investigation and recommendation. The committee is composed of Attorney L. A.

"Merry Christmas"

At no time in the history of America has there been a more definitely hopeful outlook than is marked by this glorious holiday season.

We are entering a period of better regulated living, more industrious production and sounder merchandise values than any of us have seen since the world-disrupting conflict in Europe began.

Blessed by most plentiful crops, enriched by greater wisdom and heartened by the fact that normal times are here once again, we cannot help but feel that a Guiding Hand has brought us to this better day, and look upon it as the happiest of Christmases, with the new year of our greatest hope about to dawn.

To you, the reader of these lines, we most heartily convey the sincerest of Christmas Good Wishes and the earnest hope that in the good times near at hand you will derive an overflowing measure of prosperity.

TURKEY PRICES UP
ON S. F. MARKET

(United Press Leased Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—

The turkey market opened at prices ranging from 36 to 38 cents per pound on fancy stock. Receipts, said to approximate 40 tons, proved too light for the demand, and buyers were quite willing to pay 33 to 40 cents per pound for the limited stock remaining on hand. Off stock was still dragging and in light demand.

Prices on lettuce were generally lower in the face of very liberal supplies. Best Imperial Valley lettuce sold from $2.75 to $3.25 with other iced lettuce selling from $1.75 to $2.50 per crate.

With lighter demand, peas were selling from 8 to 10 cents per pound. There will be a considerable holdover of Imperial Valley peas.

Tomatoes and summer squash are firm and in light supply with lots of the former selling from $2.75 to $3.25 each.

Supplies light: Pineapples, grapes, pears, cabbage, beans, summer squash, cauliflower, rutabaga, cucumbers, tomatoes.

Supplies liberal: Bananas, apples, oranges, grapefruit, lemons, potatoes, celery, onions, spinach, lettuce, bell peppers, egg plant, peas.

Chester H. Rowell

WHOSE EYE?—Don't blame

the French too much. They may ignore everything regarding the German debt, except that Germany owes the money and they need it. But what are we doing? American statesmen dare not even mention the policy which they know perfectly well is ultimately inevitable.

"American public sentiment," they say quite accurately, "will not even listen to a proposal to cancel any of these debts." Why, then, should we blame French statesmen if they do not dare to propose to the French people the scaling of the German debt which they know to be inevitable?

Don't blame the Turks too much. All they have done is to deny the equal protection of their laws to radical and religious minorities. How near do we come to extending to the negro radical minority the rights which our laws guarantee them? What are our Ku Klux trying to do to our Catholic and Jewish minorities? And how much self-government are we going to allow in our island of Hawaii, as soon as the native-born citizens of the Japanese race become the majority of the voters thereof?

To be sure, the Turks express their intolerance of alien peoples by massacring and starving them. But we lynch more people than all the civilized nations combined, and have just refused to pass a law making it a national offense.

"First cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye."

CONVERSION?—From following the worst examples in the world, Japan has suddenly turned to setting something better than the best. The Japanese foreign office announces a reversal of national policy.

From looking out for the interests of "Japan first and Japan only," Japan seeks to earn the good opinion of the world by taking the leadership in policies for the common good.

Japan has more than made good in its newest policies in China. It is trying to deserve the friendship, instead of protecting itself against the enmity of America. It acts like a nation that has gone through a sentimental conversion.

Discount it all you like. Time-wise Nipponese are amicitia ferentes. They may not entirely mean it and it may not last. Not cynicism only, but prudence suggests that we be on our guard.

But in this distracted world it is not refreshing to find one nation even professing such a virtue?

And in a Christendom that has become heathen, is it not consoling to hear a word of Christian spirit even from a heathen country?

PARADOXES.—There are two puzzling paradoxes: "Germany is near collapse," says Bonar Law, no doubt correctly. "All pre-war records for shipping in Hamburg and Bremen, the principal German ports, were broken in May and June of this year," says President Heinichen, of the North German-Lloyd. Germany is bankrupt and prosperous.

England is the "richest country in Europe." It is the only one even to consider paying its debts, and the only one with a currency approaching par. England has more employed than any other industrial nation and its business prospects are more precarious than those of any other comparable company. England is rich and impoverished.

The difference is, of course, between "England" and England; "Germany" and Germany. The "England" that is rich is the British government, which has more heroically balanced its budget and stabilized its currency than any other country. The British government is financially sound. But the world in which British business became great no longer exists. There is no doubt of the ability of France and Germany to become ultimately what they were before the war, in the world's business. It is very doubtful whether England can ever resume that place.

"Similarly, the 'Germany' that is bankrupt is the German government. Germans can do business and pay their debts and are doing so. German industries are moving, and German commerce is reviving. All they lack is a stable currency and a solvent government.

As it stands, 'England'—that is the British government—has done its task the best of all. And, with all its faults and limitations, English leadership is still the safest guide for Europe, out of the bog in which it is mired.

WE ARE IN—We are in it again! We elected President Wilson to "Keep us out of war" and straightway he led us into it. We elected President Harding to keep us out of the League of Nations and already we are practically in it. We may never join the actual League under its present covenant. We may even force its disbandment and merge it into some new and less comprehensive association of nations. But the question of re-suming in some fashion leadership in the very European tangle which we thought we were out of is already beyond discussion. We shall doubtless discuss it enough, as is our way, after there is nothing to discuss, but meantime, it is already done. We are in, and, like the war, there is no way out but forward.

For the world is ruled but little by the will or the votes of men. It is ruled by facts. We voted to keep ourselves out of war, but the facts drove the war into us. We voted to stay out of the European tangle, but the facts put the tangle into us. Our wranglers may not know it, but what they are indulging in is historic comment. They have their senses wrong. While they are discussing whether we shall get in, we have got in.

AUTO REGISTRATION BY

West, chairman, Carl Heim, S. M. Davis, Morris Cain and J. B. Nichols.

Say System Unsatisfactory.
The Hanford resolution declares that the motor vehicle department, as now organized and conducted, is both unsatisfactory and expensive to the motoring public.

It is asserted that motor vehicle registration could be more satisfactorily and cheaply accomplished by specially appointed deputies in the offices of either the county clerks or tax collectors in the state.

Declaration was made that the system of collecting license fees in the early part of the year and having them deposited in banks at Sacramento, to be held until the pro rata share of each county is paid back late in the year, is unfair to the communities in which such fees originate.

It was recommended that registration fees collected by deputies in county seats be deposited in local banks in the counties.

Dealers Favor Change.
In discussion of motor vehicle problems, members of the dealers' craft of the Orange County Automobile Trades association have frequently declared that a system by which deputies at county seats could issue licenses would eliminate a great deal of trouble now experienced both by dealers and owners. It was pointed out that with such a method, as a rule, it would mean but a short drive for any dealer in this county to reach the county seat and procure a plate, whereas now it is necessary either to drive into Los Angeles or mail an application to Sacramento, both requiring time and expense.

It would eliminate, it was pointed out, the unsatisfactory system of issuing blue slips under which new cars are now operated pending arrival of license plates.

Dealers, as well as owners, declare that maintenance of registration bureaus in county seats has many advantages that commend the suggested plan.

HERBERT DAVIS TAKES CREDIT MANAGERSHIP

as his successor may be appointed. This service will be given outside of his hours at the furniture store. The retiring secretary has held the position two years, during which time he has proven a capable and efficient directing manager.

and secretary. It was intimated at a meeting of the association Thursday night that strenuous efforts would be made to induce him to remain in the position.

Davis' Mind Made Up.
Davis, however, has announced that he has definitely accepted the situation with Chandler's. He pointed out that his new work is similar to that in which he was engaged before accepting the secretaryship of the association. This work, which he did prior to coming here, was the organization of forces in mercantile activities. He stated that he felt the position he is soon to assume is directly in line with his training and life study.

He has high recommendations from former employers as an efficiency expert and office manager.

The friends he has made and the associations he has formed during his two years of service with the trades association will be of value to him and to his new employing firm, it was emphasized.

and impoverished.

The difference is, of course, between "England" and England; "Germany" and Germany. The "England" that is rich is the British government, which has more heroically balanced its budget and stabilized its currency than any other country. The British government is financially sound. But the world in which British business became great no longer exists. There is no doubt of the ability of France and Germany to become ultimately what they were before the war, in the world's business. It is very doubtful whether England can ever resume that place.

"Similarly, the 'Germany' that is bankrupt is the German government. Germans can do business and pay their debts and are doing so. German industries are moving, and German commerce is reviving. All they lack is a stable currency and a solvent government.

As it stands, 'England'—that is the British government—has done its task the best of all. And, with all its faults and limitations, English leadership is still the safest guide for Europe, out of the bog in which it is mired.

WE ARE IN—We are in it again! We elected President Wilson to "Keep us out of war" and straightway he led us into it. We elected President Harding to keep us out of the League of Nations and already we are practically in it. We may never join the actual League under its present covenant. We may even force its disbandment and merge it into some new and less comprehensive association of nations. But the question of re-suming in some fashion leadership in the very European tangle which we thought we were out of is already beyond discussion. We shall doubtless discuss it enough, as is our way, after there is nothing to discuss, but meantime, it is already done. We are in, and, like the war, there is no way out but forward.

For the world is ruled but little by the will or the votes of men. It is ruled by facts. We voted to keep ourselves out of war, but the facts drove the war into us. We voted to stay out of the European tangle, but the facts put the tangle into us. Our wranglers may not know it, but what they are indulging in is historic comment. They have their senses wrong. While they are discussing whether we shall get in, we have got in.

ALLEGED PLOT AGAINST GIRL IS BLOCKED

Alleging that he is about to dispose of real estate valued at $12,000 and other securities worth $13,000 with intention of removing from state for the purpose of evading responsibility for the care and support of his daughter, Olga, an alleged imbecile, Gottlieb Meger, of Anaheim, was halted in alleged plans for disposing of his property by a suit filed in superior court here today by his daughter, Emma, through attorneys Ames and McFadden, Anaheim, and Clyde Bishop, Santa Ana.

The action was brought to have the court determine the amount of money necessary to support and maintain Olga Meger, and to ascertain to what extent her father has ability to support and maintain her.

The plaintiff asks that the amount determined as necessary to the girl's support be made a lien upon all of the holdings of the father.

The action followed a hearing in superior court yesterday on an action by which the father attempted to have set aside a deed to thirty acres given his daughters, Emma and Hulda, on August 9, 1920. He alleged at the time of making the conveyance that he was incompetent. The complaint also asked determination by the court of the father's interests. He was awarded title to ten acres, valued at $12,000, and a mortgage for $13,000 on the twenty acres awarded, to the two girls.

It was declared today by Attorney Bishop that Meger was ready to transfer his interest in the property awarded, and the present suit was filed to prevent the transfer.

Meger was in the courts here some months ago charged with a serious offense against a granddaughter.

STAR SAVES MOVIE MAN IN RIP-TIDE

Thomas Regan, assistant director for the Universal company, motion picture manufacturers at Hollywood, today was recovering at the hospital there from exhaustion resulting from a battle with the waves at Laguna Beach yesterday. Reginald Denny, star of "The Abysmal Brute," a Jack London story, rescued him during the taking of a scene at Laguna yesterday.

The scene required a man fully dressed in evening clothes to jump into the surf. The "extra" man refused to make the leap and Regan volunteered. The assistant director was caught in a rip-tide and was being carried out to sea when Denny rescued him, bringing him, unconscious, to land.

The Holiday Season, coming as it does at the expiration of our first year's business in this community, we sincerely thank the people of Santa Ana and Orange County, for the hearty support they have afforded us. . . And at the same time we wish each and every one a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous 1923.

The bank will be temporarily situated in the Carl Jern building at the northwest corner of Plaza Square and Chapman avenue but will later move to its permanent home in the Masonic building at the corner of Plaza Square and Glassell street.

D. Eymann Huff, vice-president and general manager of the David Hewes Realty corporation, will become president of the institution, it was announced. A. W. Swayze, formerly of Kansas, where he still retains banking interests, and B. L. Rees, who for the past thirty years has been connected with the International Harvester company at Chicago, will be vice-presidents.

Directors of the bank are Huff, Swayze, B. L. Rees, R. R. Rees and S. W. Smith. R. R. Rees has resided near Tustin for the past ten years. He formerly resided in Kansas, where he was a district judge and was later elected to congress. Smith is cashier of the Standard Bank of Orange County, at Fullerton.

Huff came to Orange county in 1890, where he resided until 1897 when he became associated with the Southern California Fruit exchange. Since that time he has been one of the most active citrus men in the Southland and business men believe in connection with the new institution at Orange will do much to help its continued success.

WORKER STRUCK ON HEAD HERE SUFFERS CONCUSSION

HOLD SERVICES FOR PILOT OF 1865 STAGE

Funeral services for George Clinton Morrow, 87, of Villa Park, the man who drove one of the first passenger stage teams between Anaheim and Los Angeles when this section was little more than a mustard-covered valley and when the site of the present Los Angeles county courthouse could have been purchased for $1.25 an acre, were held from the Smith and Tuthill chapel at 2 p. m. here today.

Mr. Morrow died at his home in Villa Park last Thursday after a residence in this section of more than forty-two years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah J. Morrow, two daughters, Mrs. Madge Morrow Christenson and Mrs. Annie Morrow Wheeler; and four sons, Burton, Clinton, Sylvester and Charles, all of whom reside in the vicinity of Villa Park.

Mr. Morrow was born in Ohio, May 31, 1835. He was married in 1869 at Indianola, Ia., to Miss Sarah J. Hutchins, like himself an Ohioan by birth.

On attaining his majority, Mr. Morrow decided to seek his fortune in the West and made his way across the plains with horses and wagons. His first stop in California was at Cache Creek, Yolo county, in 1863. A year later he came to Los Angeles, then but a small settlement.

Many of his interesting experiences centered around the stage driving which was for a number of years, and at various intervals his vocation.

From 1872 to 1879 he and Mrs. Morrow made their home in Iowa, where he engaged in farming but they returned to this state, purchasing seventeen acres of cactus-covered land northeast of Orange for twenty-five dollars an acre. This he cleared and planted, visioning its future value. It was a vision which was realized fully when in recent years, he refused many thousand dollars an acre for the tract.

Drink KO-FAN

A Bracing Drink For the Tired and Thirsty

KO-FAN is a new drink made of ingredients from the Tropics and Far East to banish the fatigue and quench the thirst of hard-working, hard-playing Americans.

Sparkling like wine, fascinating to taste, alluring in color, healthful, invigorating, Ko-Fan combines all the qualities Americans have wanted in a drink.

You'll like it—from the first sip to the last drop drained from the claret depths of your glass.

First—Ko-Fan has a distinctive, fascinating flavor. You don't have to learn to like it. Ko-Fan and you are friends from the first. Thousands have differed on what it tastes like, but all agree that it's good.

Second—Ko-Fan has an exhilarating effect. It tones you up, braces you up, buoys you up, enlivens your mind. You walk with a brisker step, see with a clearer eye, think with a more active brain after a refreshing drink of Ko-Fan.

Third—It is healthful. Thompson, a food authority, says of one element: "Tested at army maneuvers, it was found to equal five times its weight of beef." All of the dozen ingredients are pure and wholesome. Scientifically blended, they provide a buoyant good drink which fills a real need.

Ko-Fan ingredients come from the Far East—one piquant flavor from the home of Omar Khayyam, another from China, a dash of goodness from the land of Cleopatra, a drop from the South Sea Islands—all mingled scientifically to refresh and bring greater efficiency to Westerners.

Go to your nearest fountain today and order Ko-Fan. Observe its beautiful color. Note its strange, delicious flavor. After drinking it, notice how refreshed you feel, how alert!

Ko-Fan is available wherever good drinks are served as a fountain drink or in bottles

FORMER POLY STARS BACK FOR BIG TILT

Cock, Stark and Le Bard to Play With 1921 Team
Christmas Day

With the return here of Howard ("Bart") Cock, Harry Le Bard and Newt Stark from college for the Christmas holidays the 1921 Poly All-Southern championship team, which is to meet the prospective 1922 high school eleven at Poly field Christmas afternoon, today was assured of virtually the same lineup for the tilt as that which

HOWARD ("BART") COCK
who will play with the Santa Ana 1921 team at Poly field Christmas Day against the Poly 1922 eleven. Cock, who captained the local squad last season, played fullback with the California freshmen this year.

played throughout the season last year.

The only man who will not be with the team is "Jeff" Cravath, center, who will remain at Clay Center, Kansas, during the vacation period. Cravath played quarterback and did the kicking for the Clay Center high school eleven during the past year and his crew suffered but one defeat.

Roland Stilens, who held down the pivot job this year for "Spud" Morrison's squad, will pass the oval for the 1922 outfit. "Eeny" Wilcox will play quarter with Knight and Jabs at halves and Cock at full. Armstrong, Coffman and Stark will be at the ends, Le Bard and Bell at tackles and Elliott and Everett Best at guards.

Townsend, Howell, Coulson and others from the Poly aggregation of 1922 will be ready to fill in with the championship team whenever needed.

The game will give local fans an opportunity to see much of the material which Santa Ana will have available for a team next year. While only a few letter men will be back Morrison's reserve men were far from weak this season and with experience, which this and enter games are bound to give, local fans believe Poly will be a strong contender next season.

The Christmas Day tilt is expected to attract a large crowd of grid enthusiasts. The money received at the gate will be used in the purchase of gold footballs for the Santa Ana team which battled its way into the semi-finals for the Southern California championship during the season just completed. It has been a custom at the local school to present football men with these tokens for many years past but this season the student body was so crippled financially that the expense could not be met from the general fund.

BILLIARD CHAMPION TELLS HOW TITLE WAS RECOVERED

BANTAM CROWN IS RETAINED BY LYNCH

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The world's bantamweight championship was already to move last night while Joe Lynch and Midget Smith were battling 15 rounds at the Garden. But the crown of the 118 pounders looked at the sorrel top of the Midget with disdain and decided to remain aboard the red tinted dome of Champion Joe, the noted son of Westside Paddy.

Lynch was bad enough but Smith was worse.

Lynch would have been in a bad way if some boy with a punch in his right hand had been shoving them at him. The Midget hit the champion at will but there was nothing behind his heaves. Lynch was irritated and peeved, but unhurt by the attack.

Lynch won the decision with his left hand. The first five rounds went at a furious pace with Smith doing all his usual forcing. The champion kept stabbing him with a left jab which got the Midget to bleeding freely from the nose and mouth.

Smith rocked Lynch in nearly every round with a right hook to the jaw that he seems to have little difficulty in getting over but they only served to make the champion grouchy and he would tear back.

In the semi-finals, Kid Williams, former champion, was fouled in the first round.

FIGHT RESULTS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 23.—Floyd Johnson, New York, heavy-weight, knocked out Italian Jack Herman in the third round.

BOSTON, Dec. 23.—Kid Norfolk, New York heavyweight, won a ten round decision from Lee Anderson.

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 23.—Eddie Weygant of Newcastle and Sammy Sandow of Cincinnati fought a 12 round draw last night.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—Pal Moore outboxed Bud Taylor in ten rounds.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 23.—Bud Ridley, Seattle featherweight, outpointed Frankie McCann in the four round main event here last night.

STAR HALFBACK TO RETURN TO SCHOOL

Don Williams Eligible for Poly Eleven Next Year;
Thoele, Dungan O. K.

Don Williams, star halfback on the Santa Ana high school championship football team of 1921, will be eligible for "Spud" Morrison's squad next year. So will Henry Dungan, guard, and Bernard Thoele, tackle, both of whom starred with the Poly team which won the Orange league title during the season just closed.

That was the word which thrilled grid followers here today as final preparations were being made for the clash at Poly field tomorrow between the 1921 team and the 1922 team of the local school.

The addition of these three men to the list of promising material which Morrison built up on his first string squad during the past year assure Poly of a strong eleven next season.

Will Re-enter School.

Williams, regarded as one of the cleverest backs ever developed at the local institution, was forced to leave school last February. He will re-enter Poly this February and will be eligible for another year of football. It was learned today. He will play with the 1923 team Christmas Day instead of with the 1921 aggregation as had been previously announced.

Thoele, provided he does not graduate this June, will be eligible for next year's team as will Dungan, who did the kicking for Morrison's squad this season. Thoele went east for the Christmas holidays but will return here before school reopens after the vacation period.

Townsend May Play. The status of "Chapple" Townsend, the scrappy little guard, has not been decided. Townsend left school when he was a freshman and the records will have to be investigated. It is probably that he will be declared eligible for competition.

With Captain-elect Eddie Linsenbard and Mitchell at center, Townsend, Sheets and Dungan back for guards, Wood, Kirmsie, Stark and Thoele at tackles, Lancaster and Smith at ends, Golden, Cook and Tommy Watts, who will return to school in February, at quarter, Williams, Luck, Natland, Spencer and Rabe, at halves and Lacey and Wurster at fullback, the Poly grid mentor will have a strong crew with which to begin the season.

Merry Christmas

With a pledge of good faith and with good will toward all men, The Register extends the season's greetings to every one of its readers.

If The Register in the year that is passing has spoken the right word for the community in which it exists; if it has been fair and reasonable in all its dealings; if it has stood out boldly for a square deal and human rights; if it has done its duty as it was encountered; if it has lent its hand to make your measure of happiness more complete; then it has fulfilled the function which its management believes it should. If it has in some measure failed in its duty, it faces the new year with a determination to improve each opportunity as it presents itself.

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man entered a store and purchased a pair of shoes for five dollars. He gave the storekeeper a twenty-dollar bill. Having no change, the storekeeper sent the note to another store, and gave the purchaser fifteen dollars from the twenty dollars change. Later the proprietor of the other store came in, bringing back the twenty-dollar bill, which was a counterfeit. He demanded twenty dollars, which the storekeeper gave him. What was the storekeeper's loss on the transaction?

Yesterday's answer:

The iceboat can travel faster than the wind which is blowing from A to B by following a course across the lake from A to C. If the sail is kept perpendicular to the wind, the boat will be carried directly across, almost as fast as the wind, and its angular course A to C will therefore be faster than the wind.

EVENING SALUTATION

He taught mankind on that first Christmas day
What 'twas to be a man; To give, not take;
To serve, not rule; to nourish, not devour;
To help, not crush; if need to die, not live.

—Charles Kingsley.

SWEETEST STORY EVER TOLD

At this Christmastide, let us dwell again upon the sweet story of Bethlehem. Let us open our hearts to the vision of joy unto mankind as it appeared to the Wise Men who came to the star that glistened over the manger wherein the Savior was born.

Upon that day the Son of God appeared upon this earth to fulfill the prophecies of the ages. He came to live among men, because it was in the lives of humankind that He should forever be a vital force. There was the dawning of a new day for the peoples of this earth. Down through the centuries the light of that day has spread its blessed rays. So long as this earth shall last, and on down through eternity, the birthday of Christ shall ever be the most wonderful of all days. Had Christ not been born, the world could not have been saved.

The birth of a babe is a wonderful thing. The mystery of it brings us all to marvel. The heart beats, the blood flows, and with the babe the cycle of life is begun anew.

Infinitely beautiful and infinitely sweet, was the birth of the Babe of Bethlehem. No story of a birth upon this earth could be no more wonderful, nor more beautiful, than is the story of the coming of the Christ-child. His coming meant "Peace on earth; good will to men," and as the Prince of Peace, the Christ came to reign in the hearts of men.

The joy of that day has brightened the dark spots of earth; it has brought comfort to hearts of gloom; it has ripened hope, where there was despair; it has lifted men out of the depths, renewed their faith and carried them on to victory and to life eternal.

And as the Christmas candles of 1922 burn in the homes of this blessed land, let our thoughts and desires and ambitions for emulation of Him who came to serve be kindled anew and blown into lusty flame.

For it was that we might follow in His footsteps that He came to earth, a babe; though in humble surroundings, rich in destiny.

Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise; be thankful unto Him, and bless His name.

For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endureth to all generations.

CHRISTMAS CHEER

Hey for the Holly! 'Tis time to be jolly! Is it a sad troubled world? It is not!

Into each life some rain must fall, into each world must come some pain. But all things work together for good. April showers bring May flowers. It is the fire that purifies the gold. It is sorrow that strengthens character. It is the pressure of political difficulties, suffering peoples, the personal knowledge of war and the fear of its recurrence that are bringing the nations into taking their problems seriously. It isn't easy, superficial living that makes things better. It's getting life down to the bare bones and finding out what really counts and what doesn't.

What seem to be troubles are only growing pains. They are the aches that come from standing on the stepladder long hours hanging holiday greens. What the world needs is cheer. It's fellowship. It's the spirit of the jolly old saint that comes down the chimney to give the children a good time.

There's healing in honest jollity. It's the peppy, jazzy, restless stuff that wears people out. But a regular old wholesome good time, with everybody helping in the work and everybody laughing at the fun, and a candle in the window and a little moisture in the eyes "When Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," and concentration on the terrible problem of just how to adjust the orange, the knife, the nuts and the candy to produce the greatest effect in the matter of wild-eyed wonder—that's the kind of stuff the world needs right now.

From Christmas Eve to New Year's let all the troubles be forgotten, let the world wag as it will. Time enough to settle things after that. And a few days of whole-souled acceptance of the spirit of peace, good-will and fellowship will help more to move the world on its way to happier and better living than a year of wars, elections, speeches and conferences.

THE ELKS' CHRISTMAS TREE

As usual, the Elks of Santa Ana are playing Santa Claus this afternoon, at Birch Park, where, from a huge Christmas tree, they are distributing toys and candy to the little folks.

Among the many fraternal and religious and other organizations, probably none surpasses the Elks in perennial dispensation of unobtrusive charity. A Christmas tree must of necessity be somewhat in the public eye, but it is not at Christmas time alone that the Elks are charitable. Every month and week in the year they carry on their work of helping the helpless, relieving suffering, rendering service.

The dispensations of the order in this direction are carried on quietly. The work is no brass-band affair. It is one of the four cardinal principles of the Elks' lodge and wherever there is destitution or worthy charity work to be done the Elks do it.

There has been no occasion for charity work among its members. If there had been the work would have been done with an understanding, for the order has a way of caring for its unfortunate brothers. The Elks do their charity work among people who have no connection with the lodge; among women and children, and even men, who are worthy of their gifts.

There are two outstanding principles of Elksdom: Americanism and charity. Adherence to both are carried out to the last degree. And what finer principles could an order build upon? Country first, unfortunate next. The Elks now have a national membership of almost 1,000,000. Their area is confined to the United States and Canada. There are no Elks' lodges outside the mainland except in possessions of the United States, the Philippines and Porto Rico, but wherever the spirit of Elksdom breathes, the American flag, in all its magnificent splendor, floats out on the breezes and beside it is the invisible banner of charity.

Every Elk has heard the beautiful legend of charity as told from the station of the esteemed leading night—a rhetorical climax equalling or surpassing Ingersollian word painting; it inspires Elks to go forward with their work of charity and permits no laxity.

HISTORY OF CHRISTMAS

Many of the most important symbols and practices of Christmas observances are of distinctly pagan origin, the result of the early-church reconciling heathen converts by adopting the more harmless features of their festivities.

Nobody knows anything definite about the origin of Christmas as a festival time, who first celebrated it, or when or how. Nobody knows if December 25 is the right anniversary of Christ's birth.

Celebration of birthdays was considered heathenish by early Christians, and it was not until after 341 A. D. that an investigation was made into the date of Christ's birth by order of Pope Julius. This set the date at December 25, although many sections celebrated January 6, April 20, March 29 and May 20.

Pope Julius set the date as December 25, and established the festival at Rome on that date. This is the date of the winter solstice, when winter begins to decline toward spring, which for centuries before Christ, had been celebrated by Druids and other pagans as the chief festival of the year.

Mistletoe was an object of special veneration with the Druids, and was gathered with great ceremony in December. It survived in Christmas observance with the kissing a relic of the Saturnalia of the ancients.

The Yule Log of old England began in the Druidic bonfires celebrating the Yule festival.

New Automobile Law

Redlands Facts.

One of the principal indoor sports up at Sacramento next month will be the framing of the new "Vehicle Act," the new series of regulations, read into the statutes of the state, which will govern the use of automobiles during 1923.

The automobile has come into being so recently, and has progressed so rapidly in the building thereof, and in its use as well, it has been thought necessary to change the laws in regard to the use of it at every opportunity. Yet, if one looks beneath the surface, he finds that most of the suggested changes are not in the interest of the people, but of someone connected with the industry.

The automobile has been seized upon as a subject of special taxation, because of the idea early in the history of it, that not but the rich could afford to own cars. It was thought a tax of that kind would prove popular because it is always popular to tax the rich, because there are but few of large property and the poor man is always envious of the wealthy. But with the development of the industry, many people have been able to buy the cheap type of cars, and the gasoline engine has been developed to a point where it forms the motive power of vehicles used for freight carrying and for agricultural work, so that the consideration of the self-propelling vehicle has gone, in large measure, from the standpoint of a pleasure car only.

On the other hand the building of fine highways throughout the state and the necessity of caring for these roads at state expense, inasmuch as many of them are owned and maintained by the state, has brought about a condition calling for a large amount of maintenance money, which at present is provided mainly by the money received from the licensing of automobiles.

There is always a campaign to make the license higher, at each session of the Legislature. The men who handle the state highways want more money to spend. There is also in the offing a proposal for a gasoline tax, also designed to bring in more money—to add to the cost of the taxpayer. These costs have some measure of justification, for at least the money is spent for the public good. The question in regard to them is whether we want to spend the money and get the added results, or will we keep the money or go without the results. That is a question each taxpayer can answer for himself or herself.

The busiest person of all, however, in the framing of the vehicle act is the fellow who is trying to interject a "nigger" into the thing. He has some special interest to serve. Two years ago the Vehicle Act that was introduced and which, unfortunately, had the support of the Automobile Clubs, was so full of jokers, the lawmakers were compelled to make a joke out of it, and they promptly cast it into outer darkness and changed the law not at all, which was probably just as well. The fellows who had accessories to sell things which they claimed were absolutely essential for the protection of the motorist himself, got provisions into the bill offered two years ago to the extent that every motorist in the state would have had to buy something like $30 worth of trimmings for his car, if the law had passed. When one reflects that there are about three-quarters of a million cars in the state, he can get just a glimpse of the immense profits someone was trying to get out of the people who own motor cars.

So it may not be a bad idea to keep a weather eye out for the automobile bill which will come out shortly and especially to scan it for the festive accessory joker. Incidentally, tell your troubles to your Assemblyman and your State Senator, if you are opposed to a gasoline or other tax that will add to your burdens of this character.

President's Attitude On Bonus

Pasadena Star-News

Of great interest to the country in general and to ex-service men of the World War in particular, is the assurance from President Harding, given through Col. C. R. Forbes, director of the Veterans' Bureau at Washington, that the president would approve a bonus if practicable means of financing the measure could be devised. A joint conference of national and state executives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, after listening to this assurance from Washington, unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing a national sales tax, with foodstuffs exempted, as a means of raising revenue necessary to finance the bonus. The American Legion, however, was not represented at this meeting.

The bonus proposal undoubtedly will be pushed with vigor before the Sixty-eighth Congress. The struggle as to ways and means of financing it will be waged around the sales tax proposal. This suggested form of taxation is strongly favored by some members of Congress, and just as strongly opposed by other members. Should the fate of the bonus hang upon decision as to a sales tax, the result of the contest in Congress would be awaited with feverish interest. Meantime, the country has time in which to study the question and to consider ways and means of financing a bonus measure. There is every probability that a bonus of some nature will be voted by the Sixty-eighth Congress.

When Sunday Comes

By John Andrew Holmes

You say you saw a hypocrite at church last Sunday? Possibly he whom you saw at that man's store on Saturday was the hypocrite, but when you saw him Sunday at church it was the real man.

Not a Bad Old World After All

'Twas the Night Before Christmas'
Was Written 100 Years Ago Tonight

'Twas the night before Christmas when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that Saint Nicholas soon would be there.
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugarplums danced through their heads.
And Mama in her kerchief and I in my cap
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the shades.
Down the gable side of the new-fallen snow,
Gave the luster of midday to objects below.
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.
With a little old driver so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be Saint Nick.
With rapid and easy his couriers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer! and Vixen!
On Comet! on Cupid! on Dunder and Blitzen!"
To the top of the porch I flew like a flash,
Tore down the shutters and threw up the shades.
Down the gable side of the new-fallen snow,
Gave the luster of midday to objects below.
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.
With a little old driver so lively and quick,

And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer! and Vixen!
On Comet! on Cupid! on Dunder and Blitzen!"
To the top of the porch I flew like a flash,
Tore down the shutters and threw up the shades.
Down the gable side of the new-fallen snow,
Gave the luster of midday to objects below.
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.
With a little old driver so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be Saint Nick.
With rapid and easy his couriers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer! and Vixen!
On Comet! on Cupid! on Dunder and Blitzen!"
To the top of the porch I flew like a flash,
